Description of the incident, including the suspected cause of death, injury or egregious abuse or neglect:

On 11/21/12, the agency received a report regarding a 2-year-old child who presented at the hospital with a head injury. The child was brought to the hospital by the mother and the mother's fiancé. The mother's fiancé reported that the child had been outside running with a ball and tripped. The child reportedly hit his nose on the concrete. The mother's fiancé put an ice pack on the child's nose, but thought the child was otherwise okay. Approximately an hour and a half later, the mother's fiancé heard a thud from the other room. The mother's fiancé went into the room and found the child on the floor having what appeared to be a seizure. The child's eyes were rolled back and his jaw was clenched. The child then became unresponsive. The mother's fiancé then put the child in the car, picked up the mother from work, and transported the child to the emergency room. The child was later transported to St. Joseph's Hospital in Marshfield. Medical personnel determined the child had bleeding in the frontal lobe area of the brain, as well as, bleeding near the falx in the back of the child's head. The child had loose teeth and retinal hemorrhaging that would be consistent with being shaken. The child was also found to have an abrasion and bump on the top of his head, a fingertip shaped bruise near his left jaw, and a linear mark to the right side of his neck. The child was admitted to the intensive care unit and needed to be intubated. Medical personnel indicated the explanation given by the mother's fiancé was not consistent with the extent of injuries to the child. Law enforcement was contacted to investigate the cause of the injuries to the child. No criminal charges have been filed in this case.

Findings by agency, including maltreatment determination and material circumstances leading to incident:

The agency collaborated with law enforcement to complete the assessment. Physical abuse to the child by an unknown maltreater was substantiated. Medical personnel determined the child was the victim of non-accidental trauma as indicated by the severity of injuries, varying ages of injuries and a lack of a plausible mechanism to explain the injuries. The mother and the mother's fiancé were unable to provide any explanation, beyond the child falling, for how the child was injured. The child and his three siblings were determined to be unsafe in the home and were placed in out-of-home care. Child in Need of Protection or Services petitions were filed in juvenile court; however, a judge dismissed the petitions during a fact finding hearing. The children were ultimately returned to the mother's care.
